OVERVIEW

The Foodservice Network is pleased to announce the first full day Workshop for the creation of a new performance standard for Hot Food Display Cabinets ((BSI – PAS). The workshop is being held at The British Standards Institution (BSI), 389 Chiswick High Road London, W4 4AL on the 21st of July from 10:00 am until 4:00 pm.

The standard is being sponsored by the Foodservice Network and aims to create a performance standard that assists manufacturers in the design and development of Hot Food Display Cabinets, secures the safety of the food product for consumers and improves the overall convenience and efficiency of Hot Food to Go operations. With rapid innovation in the Hot Food to Go retail sector now underway, it is felt that a new equipment performance standard will help facilitate the safe and successful expansion of this food service market.

The purpose of the workshop is to introduce the development of a new BSI (PAS) Standard for Hot Food Display Cabinets to organisations from across the foodservice sector (food equipment manufacturers, food production, food retail, food packaging, food safety regulators, amongst others) and to listen to any concerns or advice given. We will also explain the development process behind the creation of the standard and take expressions of interest for contributors and Steering Committee Members.
